

AX-90B

APEX Series AX-90 Professional Keyboard Stand with Quad Pod Base, Fully-adjustable Arms, and Automotive-quality Paint Finish

Quad Pod Base

Our patented Quad Pod technology delivers an enhanced center of gravity, is tip resistant, and in general, more stable than traditional column keyboard stands. To add further stability, the legs are made from super strong 6000 series aluminum and they lock into place.

Sleek, New Design

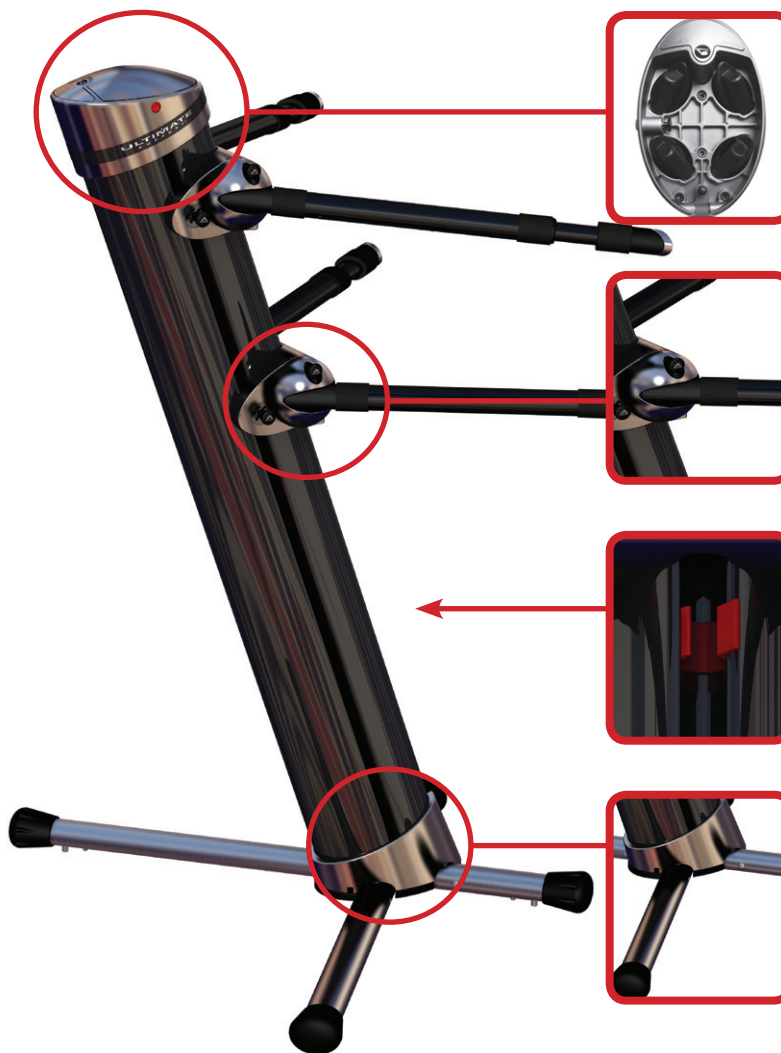

The AX-90 is the finest looking keyboard stand on the market. The modern look and shape of it is intended to bring the keyboard into the spotlight. Plus, the automotive-quality paint finish is ultra durable, will stay looking new longer than other keyboard stands, and is available in six hot colors.

Fully-adjustable Arms

As the only column stand with complete ergonomic adjustment, the AX-90 was designed for the modern keyboard player. Both sets of arms are completely height, depth, and angle adjustable.

Simple Setup and Tear Down

The AX-90 sets up and tears down in seconds. The arms and legs store safely inside the AX-90 column when not in use (so you'll never have to worry about losing parts again), and lock into place with very little effort. The tiers also feature memory positions, so your keyboards will be exactly where you want them to be - gig after gig.
